Hello everyone,

Before anything else, let me wish you all a blessed feast of St. Joseph the Worker. Under this title he is patron of the Association Jeanne Jugan, those lay people who commit themselves to serving the elderly and bringing the spirit of St. Jeanne Jugan out into the broader world. We thank them for all of their support during this time; to list all the ways they have helped us would keep us here for quite a while!

We have now received the Coronavirus testing results of two more apartment residents and also of our one final outstanding nursing home resident. All three were negative.

Based on all the test results we now have, we have completed the cohorting/grouping together of our Residents who have tested positive for the coronavirus. Some of our well residents have also been moved in order to carry out this cohorting and to be placed in areas with other well residents. The families of all residents affected by these moves have been notified of their loved ones' room changes, and our residents have been very accepting of this situation. They are amazing in their resiliency.

In general, our residents here in the Home seem fairly stable at this time. We continue to follow all CDC guidelines very carefully, and appreciate all of the support we receive from so many people. Know that we continue to keep you all in our prayers, and we truly appreciate your prayers for us as well.

God bless,
Sr. Julie, lsp
